Heritage Education
projects - experimental activities

11_ HERITAGE EDUCATION
Experimental activities

The ten (10) experimental activities which the authors of this e-book participated in (individually or as a pair) and are described briefly in this chapter are intended to stimulate the production of academic products or field work, strengthening the Brazilian government's initiative (MinC/Iphan) to include two colonial defense fortifications at the Port of Santos in the category of "World Heritage Sites". The participation of individuals or legal entities in this process is described as follows by Iphan: This initiative could lead to participation on the part of site managers, local and regional authorities, local communities, NGOs, and others who are interested in preserving the country's cultural and natural heritage (IPHAN, News).

1- Fort Circuit - Port of Santos
2 - Fort Race
3 - Proposal for a pamphlet showing tour routes around the Santos estuary fortifications 4 - Reenactment of the founding of the city of Rio de Janeiro - 450 years later.
5 - Fort Routes - Port of Rio de Janeiro
6 - Documentaries and publications
7 - Returning to the Trenches, 50 years later
8 - Transport of colonial cannons
9 - Traveling exhibitions
10 - Lecture itineraries (suggestions