

Comprehensive technical report submitted to Faperj, the project "Fort Routes: tourism circuits in the forts and fortresses of Guanabara Bay", supported by the "Pensa-Rio- support for studying relevant and strategic themes for the State of Rio de Janeiro – 2011" Grant (FAPERJ Process E-26/110,742/2012)

Primary source research results carried out by the project with visitors to the fortifications

Links for schedules of cultural events at the various fortifications

The forts of Guanabara Bay attract an increasing number of visitors. Some have a strong bond of proximity. "We of the Fort" is a web documentary made with these people, expressing their encounters with a place of affection and belonging."

Guanabara Bay had two lines of defense in the colonial period. The pictures show the fortifications that still exist and which are under the jurisdiction of the Brazilian Army.

Source: <http://www.dphcex.ensino.eb.br/>

<file:///C:/Users/ersecomandi/AppData/Local/Microsoft/Windows/INetCache/IE/GHZQ870Z/905-2391-1-PB.pdf>

From the left to the right, Forts and Fortress: Tamandaré, Vigia, Graguata, Barra, São João , São Luiz, Copacabana, Santa Cruz, Barão do Rio Branco, Conceição, Imbuhy, Marechal Hermes.:

<http://www.dphcex.ensino.eb.br/>