8 - Returning to the Trenches, 50 years later

The A TRIBUNA newspaper, April 24, 2015 edition, page A-8, had a story published in the Army Bulletin of the same date under its news headlines. The story by journalist Eduardo Barrios begins with the following: "Strong embraces, broad smiles, and lively conversation. 50 years after the first time, the 21 gentlemen in the photo to the right stepped again onto the installations that molded them: Fort Itaipu in Praia Grande.

The group participated in the Soldier for a Day program." The report highlights the life teachings, through the "marks on the soul of these (former) soldiers which are not limited to military exercises. The hierarchical teaching and discipline was responsible for good job opportunities, after being discharged from compulsory military service."
